Sheboygan County Government Further Limits Access

Sheboygan County provides essential services and is exempt from the Governor's Mass Gathering and Safer at Home orders. However, to protect the safety of our residents and employees, Sheboygan County will further limit access to its facilities. Citizens are asked to call for information, and if you need service in person, you must make an appointment.

“These are unprecedented times. We are taking these added precautions to protect the public and our staff.” Payne said. Payne urged residents to call or look to the County website for information. “Sheboygan County employees are highly dedicated and continue to serve the community. I’m very proud of our team and grateful for the community’s support,” Payne said. County Board Chairman Tom Wegner agreed. “We must all be part of the solution and practice social distancing as much as possible,” Wegner said. You can find important COVID-19 updates and other information posted on the County website, the County’s Public Health Facebook page and you can also subscribe to the county’s routine COVID19 Email Alerts list at this link.
